

Here is what our drop-in center offers!

Open Doors for Youth is a drop-in resource center for youth (ages 16 up to 24) who are experiencing homelessness or housing instability. We are open Monday through Friday from 2pm-6pm. Our center is near downtown Elk River at 554 Third Street #201.

Our mission is to provide a safe place where these young people may acquire immediate basic needs, case management and connections to essential community service providers as they move towards positive and healthy networks of support, personal well-being, and housing stability. Basic needs, such as those within the circle above, are available to youth on site. As youth identify goals in certain areas, including those shown by the arrows, we provide case management on-site and/or make connections to service providers to help them make progress.
